NAD TO PUBLISH HISTORY OF DEAF AMERICA

In July, 1980, the NAD will be celebrating its 100th anniversary. As part of this celebration the NAD Centennial Convention plans to publish a commemorative historical account of Deaf America.

Jack R. Gannon has been selected to author this book. It is a project which will be supported jointly by the NAD and Gallaudet College.

Jack would like for all readers to call his attention to stories of achievement or failure, anecdotes, pictures, etc., that will help him to present a total picture of the history of Deaf America.
